

Remote & Hybrid Work Policy

Company: Meridian Analytics Inc. (fictional — for demo purposes) Effective Date: January 1, 2026 Applies to: All employees whose roles are designated remote-eligible

1. Purpose

Establishes expectations for employees working remotely or in a hybrid arrangement, covering eligibility, equipment, security, and performance expectations.

2. Work Location Categories

Category	Description
Fully Remote	No regular in-office presence required
Hybrid	Minimum 2 days/week in office (Tue/Wed/Thu core days)
Fully On-Site	Role requires daily physical presence (e.g., lab, facilities)

Role designation is set by department leadership and noted in the employee’s offer letter.

3. Eligibility Criteria

- Employee must have completed 90-day introductory period.
- Role must be classified as remote-eligible by department head.
- No active performance improvement plan (PIP) in the last 6 months.

4. Equipment & Reimbursement

- Company provides laptop, monitor, and standard peripherals for remote/hybrid employees.
- One-time $300 home office setup stipend for new fully-remote hires.
- $50/month internet reimbursement for fully remote employees.

5. Work Hours & Availability

- Employees must be available during core collaboration hours: 10:00 AM–3:00 PM in their assigned time zone.
- Flexible scheduling permitted outside core hours, subject to manager approval and meeting deadlines.

6. Data Security Requirements

- Company-issued VPN must be used for all access to internal systems.
- Multi-factor authentication (MFA) required on all company accounts.
- Employees must not work from unsecured public Wi-Fi without VPN active.
- Physical documents containing confidential data must be stored securely and not left in shared/public spaces.

7. Out-of-State / International Remote Work

- Working from a different state than your assigned home state requires HR approval in advance (payroll tax/compliance implications).
- International remote work (including extended travel) requires 30 days' advance notice and Legal/HR sign-off; maximum 20 business days per year without a formal international employment agreement.

8. Performance Expectations

Remote work status does not change performance expectations. Managers evaluate output and deliverables, not hours logged. Chronic unavailability during core hours or missed deadlines may result in revocation of remote eligibility.

9. Revocation of Remote Work Privileges

The company reserves the right to require return-to-office for individual employees or teams based on business needs, with a minimum 30 days' notice where feasible.

10. Requesting a Change

Submit hybrid/remote status change requests via the HR portal; manager and HR approval required within 10 business days.
